ALLIES AT PEKIN

from Pekin. They experienced little opposition.

THE DAY BEFORE.

Berlin, Aug. 15.—A dispatch received here from the Pink says the British and Russian consuls agree in stating that the relief force arrived at An Ping August 3, without further opposition, the place being about thirty-two miles from Pekin.

A MANGLED MESSAGE.

An Undevelopable Dispatch Purporting to Come From Peking.

Washington, Aug. 15.—A dispatch received yesterday by the state department from Consul Fowler at Chefoo was so badly mangled in transmission as to be almost undecipherable. The cipher experts of the department worked on it last night and today. So far as made out, the dispatch appears to contain a message from Minister Conger, transmitted to Chefoo by a courier. The gist of the Conger message contained in the cablegram is that the situation in Peking is more critical and that the Chinese government is endeavoring to force the ministers to leave the imperial city under Chinese escort before the arrival of the relief column. Beyond this point the dispatch is unintelligible.

A dispatch has been received at the state department from Consul-General Goodnow at Shanghai. Its contents will not be made public as it relates largely to questions of policy and international affairs.

KILLED A JAGUAR

Hunters in Gila County Shoot Big South American Cat.

A. R. Penrose, a prospector who returned several days ago from the Four Peaks country and a trip through Gila county, was at the Five Points central yesterday. He tells a story of a killing of a South American jaguar, in the mountains along the upper Salt river. Two young men, he says, Harry Allen and Edward Laughery, are hunting in that vicinity. Last Monday morning they went to a water hole in the river, where deer and other game had been wont to come for water. With them were four dogs, a fox-terrier, a staghound and a couple of large bull mastiffs. At daybreak the dogs struck a trail, and the tracks were those of an immense cat. The dogs followed the trail for nearly three miles and finally treed the chase. As the hunters came up three of the dogs were around a large tree, the fourth having deserted the chase, and on a lower limb lay a long dark figure. The latter leaped down and the two largest dogs closed in as he struck the ground. The smaller one was disabled by a sharp blow from a paw of the cat, but the larger mastiff caught a grip on the throat and hung there. He was torn and raked by the claws of his antagonist, but only gripped tighter and hung, a dead weight, to the brute. The terrier caught at the neck of the latter, but was sent flying through the air. Allen finally got a shot at the tumbling, tossing cat, and his bullet grazed its side. At the sound of his gun the brute turned and leaped toward them. Allen shot again, but missed, and before he or Laughery could get another shot the cat was on them. He struck Allen and the latter went down, while the cat and dog rolled over him. As he fell he pulled his revolver and fired two shots, both into the body of his assailant. Laughery also shot and put a heavy bullet through the side of the animal, and pulled Allen out of the way of the death struggle of the cat. Allen was slightly scratched and bruised, but not seriously hurt. Laughery took the scalp to Goble and kept the skin. The brute measured two and four-fifths feet high at the shoulders and was over seven feet long from nose to tip of tail. Old hunters state that many years ago the jaguar was occasionally in Mexico and Arizona, but this is the first time one has been found so far north. The skin is of a very dark color, lighter around the belly and covered on the sides with darker circles.

PICNIC FOR HUNDREDS

Was Given By the Copper Queen Band of Bisbee.

The picnic given by the Copper Queen band at Lewis Springs was a great success, says the Cochise Review. A train consisting of six cars left this station at 9 o'clock, in the morning. The train probably took away over 250 excursionists.

Along the route at the different side stations a number of pleasure seekers boarded the train. Everyone carried a well filled basket, and bent on having a good time.

During the ride the crowd indulged in the usual good natured badinage and all were in the best of spirits. At the picnic grounds the jolly party left the train and proceeded to dispose of each according to his own inclination; some took to the shelter of the grove of cottonwoods, some strolled by the famous spring that bubbled from the earth. The San Pedro river, a half mile away, claimed the attention of a number of youths, who appeared to be in the water all the time, except when they came in to satisfy their extensive appetites.

The greatest raps was taken by the numerous owners of lakes to see that all were provided, and the most lavish hospitality was shown to those who were not possessed of blankets.

A platform was provided for dancing and a number of guests danced merrily for some hours, notwithstanding the heat, the Copper Queen band kindly furnishing the dancers with their fine music.

METHODISTS FOR EXPANSION.

ALABAMA'S TRIAL TRIP.

Philadelphia, Aug. 15.—The new United States battleship Alabama left the Cramps' shipyard today for her trial trip. The trial will take place over the regular course off Cape Ann, Mass.

AERIAL WAR MACHINE.

Clearly there is no reason as yet for the alarm which has often been excited by the accounts of successful experiments with regard to war machines. There is, to begin with, no grand secret in the matter, nothing which an evil minded capitalist or ambitious government could use while right-minded capitalists or governments remained ignorant how to manufacture the new weapon. Any one with the means and the control of skilled mechanics could build a similar aerial ship just as he could build a gunboat, and the richer the state the more of such machines it could keep at its disposal. They will be very costly to build, they will take time in building, and they can hardly, when governments are awake to their existence, be built in perfect secrecy. Certainly men could build them without official observation, a final check upon anarchists, who, moreover, never possess much capital. The machines cannot carry large bodies of men or large quantities of ammunition, and we may, we think, lay aside the idea of their use for a sudden and great invasion as impracticable. They would not be more useful for a raid than heavily armed cruisers are. If the recently passed rules against dropping dynamite from balloons were disregarded they might effect an amount of destruction, but not of the kind for which governments seek because it will help on conquest. For similar reasons the chance of the Zeppelin machine greatly furthering the relief or harm of beleaguered places may be put out of the mind. It could help in no way, as we shall directly point out, but in the way of carrying reinforcements and food for a population, or of carrying away a beleaguered garrison. Sir Redvers Buller, for instance, could not have cleared Ladysmith by the use of such machines or even have removed the sick. As for the contents in the air, the "crapping of aerial navies in the blue" that would, even if the dream were realized, make little difference, all governments equally possessing the machines, and the chances with cruisers in the air being the same as chances with cruisers in the water.—The Spectator.
